CONCENTRATED

Sherry Wine Bitters.

THE Proprietor of this Medicine offers to the public the result of an extensive practice and a thorough investigation of the laws which govern the human system.

It cannot be denied by those who have become acquainted with the singular virtues of these Bitters that they possess a pre eminence over all other now in use for the diseases with which they profess to cure.

It is well known fact that most diseases arise from derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, in youthful adults and decrepit age.

The extensive sympathies which exist between these and every other part of the human body are the foundation of nervous diseases of all kinds. Irregular Appetite, Languor Dizziness Wandering Pains Headache Tremors Spasms &c.

And these in turn give birth to Dyspepsia Palpitation of the Heart Shortness of Breath Indigestion Piles, Fevers Inflammatory Humors Coughs and a host of diseases which embitter life and poison all sources of enjoyment.

The distinguished character of these Bitters is most striking, the operation being more or less powerful according to the violence of the disease. When used in appropriate quantity in cases of debility they act as a tonic.

On the contrary, in obstinate cases they frequently operate more powerfully causing two or three evacuations daily, until the circulating fluid becomes purified. This accomplished they act on the system in connection with our food each receiving mutual assistance until the constitution is restored to a state of health and renewed vigor.

The Brazen Tyranny of Locofocoism Illustrated.

On referring to the legislative proceedings it will be seen that the majority in the legislature on Saturday morning last gave a strong illustration of the brazen tyranny of the loco party, by refusing to pass the order before them for an investigation of the clear and manifest mistake or fraud in the election of United States Senator Even this tyranny, outrageous as it is, was indecently perpetrated by forcing the vote early on Saturday, when, according to the statement of the Kennebec Journal, 15 Whigs and some 18 Democrats were absent The same paper states that, the only Whig who voted in favor of the postponement was Mr Burnham of Kennebunk Port, and it has proper to state that he is also the only Whig who is declined to declare his vote at the election The four Liberty men who were present voted against the postponement, and every Locofoco in the House voted for it Thus has a reasonable demand for investigation—based upon most pregnant and undoubted evidence—been successfully resisted by main strength, it has been thrown out by the dogged determination and mere physical force of a party majority, and in the teeth of the most [illegible] and no attempts were made to answer the arguments of the Whigs, except that the whole matter is a "base federal conspiracy"

This action of the loco party of the legislature furnishes food for reflection for the whole people of the State It is an illustration of the character and principles of that party, and the facts connected with it should be attentively considered by all Those men in the legislature who have made efforts to have the mistakes in the election of Senator, as acknowledged by the majority to have been made by them, corrected, should expose the whole matter and show the grounds existing for supposing that the declaration of this election of J W Bradbury as U S Senator was a down right and palpable fraud

The question forces itself upon the mind whether it were possible for the shrewd managers of the loco party to refuse the most thorough investigation of the matter if they believed that a mere mistake existed? They stand charged with an apparent fraud The fact of the legal election of Senator is disputed They are invited to an investigation and the solemn declarations of honest men are furnished them, proving a mistake or fraud, which, whether one or the other, would defeat the election They are so hard pushed that one of their own men, a member of the committee, is forced to admit the fact of a mistake or error in the count of votes But all availed not An election had been declared To investigate might, may we not now say, must have revealed fraud, and they resolve in the strength of numbers to resist the investigation, and trust to an escape from the condemnation of the public judgment by calling the whole "a federal lie"

But where is Mr J W Bradbury that he should rest easy with an official certificate in his pocket of his election as Senator from Maine in the U S Congress, based upon so strong circumstantial evidence of fraud, at any rate, of the absolute certainty of mistake? And will he go forward and offer that certificate in the Senate of the United States and look grave-Senators in the face and take a solemn oath of office? Oh, yes, he'll risk it,—his party is in the majority in the Senate and they'll 'let him in' Let him in, let him in, where if he enters at all he should do so by right, with a clean certificate based upon an undoubted vote, without fraud or even the sneaking admission that a mistake existed Let him in by party drill, and party tyranny, where no man should consent to enter but by the legally expressed voice of the people expressed by an undoubted majority of their representatives But does not Mr J W Bradbury and his party rely too strongly upon their ability to exercise the tyranny of party in Maine, and may they not leave some stich dropped which may by and by perplex them? The result may prove, should he continue to persist in holding his certificate, that a lash has been braided which may by and by be applied in a way by no means agreeable Let them beware

The wrongs which the majority of the legislature have in their action in this case inflicted upon the purity and integrity of the ballot box, as a wrong not soon to be forgotten and which justly merits and should certainly receive the stern rebuke of a free, enlightened and honest constituency

Universalist Sabbath School Excursion.

The Sabbath School connected with the Universalist Society in this city, made an excursion to Castine in the steamboat T F Secor, commanded by Capt Sanford, on Tuesday last.—The day was delightfully fair and bright for such an occasion Capt Sanford was wreathed in smiles as the multitude of little folks tripped gaily on board his boat At half past seven o clock, the precious freight having been secured, —and the temptation was so great we could not resist accompanying the pleasant party,—the boat started, and was soon under a full head of steam, and the engineer ordered to 'let her go' She did go, 'like a thing of life,' stopping only at Bucksport to land passengers, and early in the forenoon reached the wharf in Belfast—Here were assembled (the arrangements having been previously made,) the Sabbath School of the Universalist Society in Belfast, to the number of two hundred and seventy, and as they marched on board the boat, were greeted with a song of hearty welcome, which, in the calm stillness, seemed to fill the whole vault of heaven with joy-inspiring melody

There were now on board the boat, by accurate count, seven hundred and sixty-four souls, thronging every part of the boat, but she kept an upright keel and made the passage across the beautiful bay, now in all its quiet beauty, fanned by a gentle and grateful breeze, to Castine in fifty-one minutes

Friends at Castine received the company with great cordiality, and welcomed them to a large and well covered tent on the site of the old fort and where a beautiful repast was spread and ample seats provided

The meeting was organized by the choice of a presiding officer, and a committee to wait upon the company, when an opportunity was afforded for a short stroll about the ruins

The company were at length comfortably seated, the blessing of God invoked by Rev Mr Rand, of Orono, when all were soon furnished with abundance of food, drink and fruits, through the committee, whose activity and skill justly received the highest commendation

The repast having been partaken, and a short time allotted for social intercourse among friends and new friendships formed to last forever, several pieces were sung in fine style, and the company were addressed by Rev Mr Nye of this city, Rev Mr Hodsdon of Belfast, Rev Mr Rand of Orono, Dr Bridgham of Castine, and others One of the speakers called the attention of the younger portion of the meeting to the leading facts respecting the history of the town in which they were assembled, and pointed out several points of interest

After a pleasant season thus spent, the company separated, with many manifestations of kindness to Castine friends for their successful efforts in making the visit a comfortable and a happy one The party were at length on board the boat for a return, and the passage from Castine to Belfast and home was enlivened by excellent singing, and by pleasant conversation, and by the relation of historical incidents concerning many of the points on the rivers

The boat arrived at the city between seven and eight o clock in the evening, without the slightest accident to any one, and apparently without the greatest occasion of regret on the way to all the right and the duty of every freeman in the United States to speak out in a manly protest against the unnecessary and wicked war now waged by this government for the acquisition of territory, and thereby securing the supremacy of the slave power in the government Let the causes, and the costs, and the consequences of the war be thoroughly exposed and the ballot box made the great central point of public opinion If President Polk and those wedded to slavery and locofocoism, now very nearly synonomous terms are determined that the contest shall go on as to whether freedom or slavery shall rule in this country and such seems to be the fact, then the duty of the free States, of all the true patriots of the land, is imperative to interpose their protest against slavery, to join forces in favor of freedom Slavery, as a State institution, is a violation of the rights of human brotherhood and a heaven-daring sin, but slavery, as a National institution in our country, as being introduced by locofocoism, is a base and an abominable fraud, which should meet the ready scorn and contempt and opposition of every free man

The endurance of the free States has been tried until patience has ceased to be a virtue, and if they do not now unite in uttering their voice against the aggressions of slavery over freedom, then their silence is a sin This issue is made up by Mr Polk and the loco leaders, and if the decision be not in favor of freedom then freemen have ceased to discharge their duty and despotism triumphs for lack of virtue in the people They have the power, for as Pierpont has beautifully and forcibly said,

"There is a weapon surer yet
And better than the bayonet,
A weapon that comes down as still
As snow flakes fall upon the sod,
But executes a freeman's will
As lightning does the will of God
And from its force nor bolts nor locks
Shall shield them—'tis the ballot box."

From the Army.

The steamship James L. Day, arrived at New Orleans on the 18th inst, from Brazos Santiago, which place she left on the 15th instant

The news is four days later, and of considerable interest, and especially as the announcement that a deputation from the British navy arrived at Fort Polk upon business with Gen Taylor, calculated to excite curiosity and speculation The troops were being sent forward as fast as the means of transportation and the high water would allow

Gen Paredes proposed to Congress that measures be forthwith adopted for the raising of several new regiments, both of infantry and cavalry The proposition was at once carried into execution Gen Paredes was to have left the city of Mexico on the 3d instant, at the head of an army of reserve, the total number of which is from 8000 to 10,000 men

From Mexico.

Havana papers were received at New Orleans on the 18th instant, by the schooner Hope, Capt Howes, which contain later news from Mexico, having been received there by the British mail steamer Clyde, from Vera Cruz, which she left on the 6th inst

The Spanish schooner Flordelanes arrived two days previously from Sacrificios, with Vera Cruz papers to the 18th June

Passengers by the Clyde state that it was the intention of the U S squadron to attack San Juan de Ulloa on the 10th inst

Generals Arista and Ampudia had been called to the capital The former is to be tried for abandoning the city of Matamoras, while he had upwards of 4000 thousand troops under his command In consequence of this, he had been discharged from his office of commander in chief of the army

He publishes a long address to his fellow soldiers, expressing his regret at his misfortunes, and assuring them that his prayers will be offered up to the God of battles for their victory and success, in every engagement which they may have with the common enemy

The Spanish merchant brig Cerolia, from Cadiz, anchored off the Isle de Verd on the 20th ult, and attempted to pass into Vera Cruz—The Princeton fired a couple of blank shot at her, as a notice that she was not to be permitted to pass in She disregarded them, a shotted gun was then fired which quickly brought her helm about, she laid to, and the Princeton sent a boat on board, when she was ordered to go toward the Island It was reported that an American brig of war was blockading the port of Alvarado

Letters had been received at Vera Cruz stating that the Californians had pronounced against the Mexican government

☞ The "Union is essentially vexed at the course of Mr Haywood in resigning his seat, as will be seen by the following extract from that papet of Saturday

"In vain was Wm H Haywood sent to the Senate by the democracy of N Carolina At this time of the utmost need, while the fate of the revenue bill may depend upon his vote, he flinches from duty, betrays his State, and this day resigns his seat, and puts it into the power of a Whig Governor to send a Whig Senator to arrest the passage of a measure which is to do injustice to the South, to the West, to the whole [illegible] and the duty of every freeman in the United States to speak out in a manly protest against the unnecessary and wicked war now waged by this government for the acquisition of territory, and thereby securing the supremacy of the slave power in the government Let the causes, and the costs, and the consequences of the war be thoroughly exposed and the ballot box made the great central point of public opinion If President Polk and those wedded to slavery and locofocoism, now very nearly synonomous terms are determined that the contest shall go on as to whether freedom or slavery shall rule in this country and such seems to be the fact, then the duty of the free States, of all the true patriots of the land, is imperative to interpose their protest against slavery, to join forces in favor of freedom Slavery, as a State institution, is a violation of the rights of human brotherhood and a heaven-daring sin, but slavery, as a National institution in our country, as being introduced by locofocoism, is a base and an abominable fraud, which should meet the ready scorn and contempt and opposition of every free man

The Mixed Character of the Mexican People.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Tropic, in a description of the Mexican hospitals, writes as follows —

"Were these indeed the brave soldiers of the 8th and 9th, who and about them their ghostly titles, that showed they had been in the thickest of the fight? Were these men Mexicans?—Were such varieties of colour all equal in social condition? Even so The Castilian with auburn hair, the swarthy Indian with straight, the dark negro with kinked, with all their intermediate mixtures, lay side by side, all Mexicans, all of the same sympathies, feelings, language All moved in their winding sheets, evidently equal in mind and body To the American, who makes distinction in colors, this strange mixture of races in one people, causes the greatest surprise The countenances were hideous from natural physiognomy, every style of expression was represented, the Africa with low forehead and protruding lips, the besotted Indian, his straight hair hanging over his regular features, giving it added brutal ferocity, the Malay-looking mongrel, with tawny skin, slight moustache, and cold blooded treacherous eyes the low, cunning, yet intelligent, brutish white man All these various faces peered out from among loose folds of white cloth that fell about them, giving them the looks of Arabs, or some eastern crew of a private ship And these were all Mexicans, and might have been without offence to that people, blood relations, members of the same family

Executive Interference with Legislative Freedom.

The correspondent of the Philadelphia North American states that he has ample evidence in his possession, of interference by the President, for the purpose of influence members of the House to change their votes on the graduation bill After the bill was rejected, the writer says Mr Polk took a list of the boys, and pointed out to his Cabinet Ministers the names of the men whom he desired them to approach and influence The Secretaries "attended to the duty assigned them," early the next morning, before members had left their boarding houses, and then accompanied them to the House to see that they obeyed the King's mandate. The result testifies to the force of the arguments which the President directed to be used The bill was passed—eleven gentlemen having changed their votes. The correspondent above alluded to pledges himself to prove these things, and says that Executive interference and dictation in the passage of measures through Congress, has become bold and unblushing —Kennebec Jour.

Affairs at Washington.

Saturday, July 25

In the Senate, petitions were presented by Mr Sturgeon, Dix, Cameron, and others, against the present Tariff

The committee on Printing reported in favor of printing sundry petitions against the repeal of the Tariff of 1842 The report was concurred in, and the petitions ordered to be printed

The bill to reduce the Tariff was then taken up Mr Webster commenced his speech in opposition to its passage He spoke with more than his usual emphasis and ability, and was listened to with the greatest attention and interest by a crowded auditory—Mr Secretary Walker being of the number

He maintained that nobody who got his living on land or on the sea, petitioned or asked for the passage of such a bill as this, it was the work of politicians for political purposes, and that was all The great body of the people, instead of asking for the passage of such a bill, opposed its passage, and he pointed to the petitions on the table as proof of what he uttered He was playful and entertaining in his illusion to the silence of the champions on the other side, who, Polonius like, do not give speech to their thoughts, they were willing to be checked but not taxed in their speech

It was here announced that Mr Haywood had resigned his seat His resignation had been received by the Vice President, but was not read to the Senate at half past one o clock

At 4 o clock, Mr Webster not having concluded, Mr Johnson of Maryland moved to adjourn

Mr Lewis demanded the yeas and nays, which were ordered The motion to adjourn was then carried—Yeas 27, Nays 26

The Senate then adjourned, and Mr Webster has the floor for Monday

In the House, on meeting, the House proceeded to consider the bills on the private calendar

At half past one o,clock, the House adjourned

☞ The following sketch of Mr Webster's remarks in opposition to McKay's Tariff Bill, in the U S Senate on Friday last, we copy from the New York Express —

Mr WEBSTER said that the appearance of the Bill in the Senate, and its passage through the House, had astonished the public mind It might be that the gentlemen had been sufficiently admonished that this was the case, but still it struck them with surprise They could not believe, and did not believe, that the Government would favorably pass upon a measure so injurious to itself and so destructive of the public interests If the measure was one made necessary by the force of circumstances, the case would be different But nobody anticipated additional revenue from this bill, nobody believed additional means would be derived from this measure. He believed there was no public necessity for the passage of this Bill He should therefore close his remarks with a motion to postpone the Bill

Mr Webster then passed on to rebuke the sentiment of the 'official organ that the opposition were not to be heard upon this question, or if heard not heeded So presumptuous and arrogant a sentiment had never been heard He spoke of the able and admirable manner in which this question had been discussed, and particularly by the gentleman who had opened the debate upon his side of the Chamber, that speech was not only admirable but incomparable,—and Mr Webster added, that no man from the time of Gallatin and Crawford,—and not even these distinguished gentlemen, had shown so full a knowledge of this question of Finance and Revenue

Mr Webster stated the effect of the Bill upon Brandy and Spices These articles would be sent to Cuba, and brought back under the new bill The Government would lose by this $3 000,000 in its revenues We paid by freights some of our foreign debts, but this bill seriously affected the navigating interests The importing merchants [illegible] Who then advocated it? Who petitioned for it Who, among all the diversified interest of the country, came up here and asked you to pass this bill?—Not one

Mr Webster now came to the argument The universal ad valorem assessment was first considered In regard to frauds, Mr Webster gave evidence of them, not so strong as the many cases by Mr Evans, but yet so palpable that he who run might read Mr Webster did not believe there was a business man from Penobscot to the city that would pronounce in favor of the ad valorem duties Against almost a uniform opposition of every business man and every intelligent mind, the system was recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury and the President of the United States For these gentlemen, eminent in the private and public walks of life, he had great respect, but he must say to them, that they had not been trained to commerce, and that they had not intercourse with commercial and business men

Mr Webster proceeded to an examination of the legal effects of the bill, in order to illustrate its effects upon honest trade and commerce In the course of his remarks he stopped to consider the question of inconsistency, concerning which the Union has so zealously berated him within the past week

Mr Webster said it was creditable to a man to learn something as he grew older and studied more, and he hoped that he had learned more and knew more of the constitution, of the circumstances under which it was framed, and of the interests of the whole country He could excuse a man who changed his opinion from principle, but he really could find no excuse for those men who voted for what they knew to be wrong, or for what their consciences and judgments condemned

Mr Webster then examined with great minuteness the operation of the bill in its details A score of articles were given such as brimstone, white lead, flaxseed, copper, hemp, &c &c He read letters from the persons engaged in this business, all going to show rather how grossly ignorant the men were who were engaged in this business, or how designedly they had entered upon the destruction of the great business interests of the country

In regard to the Cotton and Woollen interests in which Massachusetts was largely interested, Mr Webster said he could not but feel a deep concern, but he should not rise up here to defend these interests The present hostility upon these interests Mr Webster regarded as unaccountable The Government could distress these men, could cramp them, cripple them, but it could not crush them They would rise again and turn their attention to other pursuits They were independent of the government not that they could not feel the distress inflicted upon them They rose every morning with earnest inquiry, to learn what was done here, and they retired in deep anxiety as to the result This day's proceedings were of immense moment to them, and all eyes were turned here But, said Mr Webster, it is not New England alone that is interested in this question, and here Mr Webster made a powerful argument upon the question of the coal and iron interests, the necessity, the justice, of protecting them, and the large amount of protection they received

Mr Webster spoke until 4 o'clock, when Mr Johnson of Md, moved that the Senate adjourn

Mr Lewis called for the yeas and nays,—all that he could do, as the question was not debatable, and the motion prevailed by the following vote yeas 27, nays 26.

☞ We tender our thanks to Jerome & Co for papers, received through their Express, yesterday.

The order offered by Mr, Paine of Bangor, for an inquiry whether the votes for Senator to Congress were correctly returned, was pending at the last adjournment A motion to lay on the table was negatived After some discussion the order was indefinitely postponed by 67 to 46

House concurred with the Senate in amending the bill for the improvement of Penobscot river, and passed to be engrossed as amended in concurrence

Resolve in favor of F H Allen appropriating $600 for services as District Judge after the resignation of Judge Chandler was on motion of Mr Getchell laid on the table

Bill to dissolve the bands of matrimony between Franklin Adams and Mary Adams, was read a third time The question was on concurring with the amendment of the Senate requiring Adams to secure to his wife $4,500 and certain household furniture, in lieu of dower and alimony

The amendment was concurred in and the bill laid upon the table

Monday, July 26

In the Senate—

The Committee on the militia to which was referred a resolve appropriating 160 acres of land to officers and soldiers serving in the Mexican War, reported legislation on that subject inexpedient—Report accepted

The same Committee reported a resolve making appropriations for military purposes which was read and assigned

The same Committee reported a bill to authorize the city of Bangor to restrain dogs from going at large in said city—Report accepted

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill relating to the Telos Canal, the question being on passing the bill to be engrossed Mr Knowlton offered an amendment reducing the toll from 24 to 15 cents He hoped that if the bill was to pass the amendment would be adopted

Mr Bronson followed in a very able and lucid argument opposed to the amendment showing the inexpediency of the reduction of tolls and explaining the features of the case

Mr Hodgdon replied in a speech of much interest and ability in opposition to the last Senator—The debate was continued by Messrs Knowlton, Hastings and Gore During the remarks of the latter gentleman the Senate adjourned

In the House—

Finally passed—Bills to establish York and Cumberland Railroad Company—to incorporate trustees of Lincoln High School—to incorporate Tecoric Dam Corporation—authorizing the proprietors of the Congregational meeting house in Phippsburg, to sell the pews in said house and settle with the original owners—respecting lumber in the Mattawamkeag river—to authorize school districts to borrow money for certain purposes—resolves in favor of the towns of Canaan and Pittsfield—for furnishing plantations organized for election purposes, with books and maps—in favor of Samuel Chelsea

Cured of Piles.

"For five years I was afflicted with what the doctors told me were the Itching Piles I had applied to several physicians, and used many medicines without any relief, till I used the Hay's Liniment, which I purchased of Comstock and Ross, No 79 Tremont Row, Boston, which cured me before I had used all of one bottle. I would earnestly urge upon the first one or two applications was greatly relieved upon the first one or two applications Most earnest do I urge upon the afflicted to use this remedy before all others My object entirely in making this publication is to benefit others

The number of Persons committed to the Bridewell House by me from March 1845 to March 1846, inclusive, who were not brought before any Court but were discharged is one hundred and three, that the number were drunk, or so much so that they could not take care of themselves in the Street; the number of persons committed to the House of Correction by me that year, I believe, was about six, of this number, however, some were committed more than once, and in my opinion drunkenness was the cause of their being sent there in three fourths of the cases. I say rum for that cowardly and cutthroat catalogue of liquors. The number committed to the County Jail during that year by me was about 40. For various crimes not more than one-fourth of that number, but what have examples shown us that liquor was the cause of their ruin, as, to my own knowledge I can state, that the greater part of them committed their crimes while under the influence of liquor, six of whom are now in the State Prison. Others were committed for stealing rum to sell for the purpose of buying rum.

The number committed to the Watchhouse the night time, and not included in either of the above numbers, by the Watchmen and others after the Watchmen were on duty, for drunkenness, was about three hundred of which number, at least seven-eighths were for drunkenness, in all cases which they were picked up from the streets, as stated to me by the Watchmen. About twenty other persons were arrested by me during the year, who have not been reckoned in either of the above lists, that were discharged in consequence of the absence of witnesses, or by paying fines; most of whom were arrested for fighting when they got their spirits, up by people who spirits down for it is a rare occurrence for two men to fight in the city of Bangor.

I would here state that the numbers given in this document includes only those that were arrested by the Watchmen and myself. The number arrested by others I have no account of, as they did not cover that ground. The whole number that year was over five hundred, and I have no hesitation in stating from my own knowledge, that more than seven eighths of that number were arrested, drunk, or the worse for liquor, so much so as not to be capable of taking care of themselves, and I would further state that nine-tenths of all crimes committed in this city for the last seven years, during which time I have been an officer, has had its source in liquor.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

SIMON F. WALKER, City Marshal.

Valuable Real Estate.

THE subscriber being very desirous to make sale of his Real Estate for the payment of his "just debts and incidental charges," invites the attention of those who may wish either to invest a small sum in a rising property, or to procure a convenient residence, near the centre of business.

The estates which are offered as coming under the above description are,

1st: A House and Lot on Main-street, south side, almost in immediate connection with our principal stores. The lot is 54 feet on Main-st, and 100 feet on High Lane, and contains about 5,600 square feet. The buildings are old, but the lot will be found to possess great capabilities of being made very productive: Chances for investment in property so centrally situated are not of every day's occurrence, and their value is not generally appreciated, but the subscriber, for the very pregnant reasons above suggested, being very earnest to sell, hopes that he may, by this notice, excite the attention of those who on examination may be inclined to purchase.

The other consists of a convenient House, Lot and out-buildings situated on May-street, the lot 75 by 120.

The subscriber will feel greatly obliged to those who do him the favor to examine the premises and will be disposed to sell either or both of them for much less, than he considers their value.

Another New Bangor Patent Pioneer Cooking Stove.

The Bangor Pioneer Cooking Stove.

THE subscribers after great expenditure have succeeded in bringing the admirable Cooking Apparatus to perfection and are now prepared to furnish the public with the very best article ever invented. This Stove has had three of the highest premiums awarded to it that were ever awarded to a Cooking Stove, viz the Fair of the American Institute in the City of New York a Silver Medal was awarded, at the great State Fair Poughkeepsie, N Y 1844, where was the greatest competition ever known, the first premium was awarded to it and both unrivalled in Boston New York and other places where it has been exhibited. Two of them were retailed by one establishment in Boston the past year, for all culinary purposes it far surpasses any other Cooking Apparatus that can be produced. The economy of using large sufficient capacity to accommodate six large pie plates or six large loaves of bread, or even the largest pudding or bean pots in use at the same time. In addition to the advantages it has over other Stoves for boiling, baking, washing, frying, heating irons, &c, it is acknowledged by all who use them that they have the best arrangement for Baking and Roasting that has ever been in use, the steam (from all the cooking) being carried off effectually. This Stove being composed of iron, the oven can be made hot in a moment's time, so as to make two perfect Stoves which is of great value in warm weather as the summer stove which makes a handsome parlor stove may be used in the sitting or dining room—and the other part in the back kitchen for Boiling or Washing, and in the fall of the year the two parts may be connected together as is represented above. In fact it is impossible to tell here half of the story about this Stove, and all who feel interested to get a first rate Cooking Apparatus are respectfully requested to call at our Store and examine the above, where will be found a first rate assortment of Cook Stoves Ranges, Hot-Air Furnaces and Fixtures, Tin Ware, Sheet Lead, Pumps, Lead Pipe, Fire Frames &c

Opinion of a Regular Physician.

Exeter, Me, Sept 10, 1845

This certifies that I have recommended the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many hundreds have been used by my patients, all with beneficial results. In two instances where it was thought confirmed consumption had taken place, the Wild Cherry effected a cure

E. HOYDEN, Physician at Exeter Corner

NO QUACKERY NO DECEPTION

All published statements of cures performed by this medicine are in every respect TRUE.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND IMITATIONS. The unparalleled and astonishing efficacy of Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in all the diseases for which it is recommended, during many years past, the skill of the best physicians was unavailing, has effected a large and increasing demand for it. This has caused several unprincipled counterfeiters and imitators to palm off spurious mixtures, of similar name and appearance, for the genuine Balsam

Be careful and get the genuine DR WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. None genuine unless signed by I BUTTS. Address all orders to SETH W. FOWLE, Boston, Mass

A. H. DOWNS'

Vegetable Balsamic Elixir.

The great Northern Remedy for CONSUMPTION.

Also for the cure of Colds, Coughs, Whooping Cough, Croup Bleeding at the Lungs, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the Pulmonary or Bronchial Organs

It is now more than ten years since this incomparable remedy was given to the public, with what success the thousands of restored invalids, with the universal encomiums of a grateful people, affect abundant and gratifying evidence. Indeed no medicine has ever met with such UNIVERSAL SUCCESS grappled with disease. It is its own best commendation, and to be valued needs but to be known.

Its operation upon the system is marked and peculiar from that of most similar preparations. It is EXPECTORANT, and most essentially aids in the expulsion from the stomach and lungs of phlegm and phlegmatic humors, through the process of expectoration or spitting.

It is SUDORIFIC, and promotes a healthy perspiration thus expelling by the pores of the skin those acrid and impurities of the blood the retention of which in the system is a prolific source of suffering to the invalid.

It is slightly CATHARTIC and usually corrects any costiveness attendant upon Pulmonary complaints, while most similar preparations produce a contrary effect thus adding to instead of diminishing that difficulty. (See statements of Mr Meader, Mr Ross and others, in the pamphlets annexed.)

We do not pretend that the Elixir is a specific for all the ills that flesh is heir to, but we do say and confirm by incontestable evidence, that for CONSUMPTION it is unequalled. Hundreds by its use have been snatched from an untimely grave and hundreds more who do not yet know its use have found even then that relief from sufferings which they had vainly sought from every other source.

For hard and obstinate COUGHS whether produced by a mere cold, the relic of a fever or the result of a more fixed and permanent pulmonary habit, it is just the thing needful, by its wonderful expectorant qualities it loosens the cough and enables the patient to raise with little effort what would otherwise cause hours of hard and laborious coughing. Many persons testify that after having been unable to obtain more than a slight degree of rest for weeks they have, on taking the first dose, obtained a comfortable night's rest and by continuing its use, in a short time have been restored to health

OBSTINATE COLDS AND COUGHS it will usually cure in from two to five days

To persons afflicted with WHOOPING COUGH we would especially recommend the Elixir as it reduces the cough, and gives much of the labor of hard coughing usually attendant upon that disease

In croup it generally gives relief—in no great proportion of instances effects a perfect cure in this distressing malady, as Dr Dow's Elixir (See certificates of Mr Carleton Mr Perkins, and others in pamphlet)

CROUP This dangerous malady in children may be cured by Downs Elixir We speak confidently here, as we know, among the hundreds of instances in which it has been used, one where it has failed after a fair trial

BLEEDING AT THE LUNGS In this dangerous and formidable disease, the success of the Elixir has been such that we feel authorized in saying to its reputation has ever met with similar success. This rarely perhaps never, been known to fail where it has been early resorted to and the directions faithfully followed (See statements of Mr Meader Mr Walker, Mr Downs, Alderman Morton and others in the sheets and pamphlets)

In conclusion, we would say, never despair—Hope on hope ever! If you still doubt of its virtues as efficacy enquire of those who have used it. Enquire of the Agents who sell it. They generally, either from experience or observation know its merits and when they tell you of its effect—what they have seen and what they know—are entitled to your confidence

Pamphlets and sheets may be had of agents gratis, giving a full description of the medicine, &c

CONSUMPTION!

DR. TUCKER'S INDIAN BALSAM OF OIL.

VEGETABLE SPECIFIC

For Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and other Diseases of the CHEST and LUNGS.

BUCHAN'S CONSULTING PHYSICIAN, the Great British Remedy for Consumption and Pulmonary Complaints, will stand unrivalled and unequalled as the most efficacious, safest and best cure for these dreadful complaints, now known to the civilized world.

Three years of trial in the United States during which time it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, has established its position as the most efficacious remedy in the world for Consumption and Pulmonary diseases, and in the worst cases of Consumption it has never failed to give relief, and in most instances, that cure has been effected.

ONLY RELIABLE REMEDY

SHIFTING OF BLOOD! The high commendation of this medicine by the medical profession, and the testimonials of the most eminent physicians, rather than by persons affected with some slighter form of disease—in order that its triumphs might be more apparent. He boldly declares that it will cure Tuberculous disease and confidently solicits a trial in the worst cases.

EXPECTORATION! The Expectoration is the most important subject to be attended to in all attempts to cure diseases of the Chest and Lungs. The Cough which is so distressing is simply the result of a desire to expectorate, and as long as foul matter exists in the air passage it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke a cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off this matter, and expectoration gives great relief. Inability to expectorate in the later stages of Consumption is the cause of death.

The Hungarian Balsam is a great Expectorant—It dissolves the morbid and diseased matter in the air passage, changes it from a thick, glutinous substance to a thin harmless fluid, and throws it off with the greatest possible ease and comfort to the patient. The most no better medicine in the world, as its expectorant quality alone be considered.

SPASMODIC ASTHMA Sample of Spasmodic Asthma has no better remedy than the Hungarian Balsam. This painful and destructive affection which resists almost every thing else, yields to the all powerful influence of this great remedy as readily as any other form of Pectoral disease.

CONSUMPTION Consumption has been graphically described as a Shrinking of one's self. The Hungarian Balsam by its cleansing, warming, soothing and invigorating power, produces, not shrinking but expansion!

Before its delightful influence, all chills, fever night sweats, coughs, weakness, dizziness of the head, a hot flushed skin, an uncertain strength, emaciation and decline—disappear, like the poisonous dews of night before the glorious morning sun! This is no delusion but demonstrable fact, sustained by incontestible proof from all parts of the country.

BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS! Delay in any case of Consumption tendency, is emphatically Death under all ordinary treatment. The Hungarian Balsam is a great and SURE remedy as well as CURATIVE. If you have any symptoms above described be advised in time.

Among the numerous remedies offered to the public on the basis of an old and perhaps which have acquired a wide and extensive use in some cases, there is no one article — that has been, alone by their good effects, induced to try them always use them — they are found to be the stomach, — they promote secretion nutrition and enable the system to digest and assimilate food, which allows the system to derive greater vigor and vitality from the nutriment taken into the stomach.
